when i am old

When I am Old...

I shall wear Turquoise and soft gray sweatshirts...

and a bandanna over my silver hair.....

and I shall spend my Social Security Checks on Sweet Wine and My Dogs.....

and sit in my house on my well-worn chair and listen to my dog's breathing.

I will sneak out in the middle of a warm Summer night and take my dogs for a run, if my old bones will allow...

and when people come to call, I will smile and nod as I show them my dogs...

and talk of them and about them...

The Ones so Beloved of the Past and the Ones so Beloved of Today...

I still will work hard cleaning after them and mopping and feeding them and whispering their names in a soft, loving way.

I will wear the gleaming sweat on my throat, like a jewel and I will be an embarrassment to all...

and my family... who have not yet found the peace in being free to have dogs as your Best Friends....

These friends who always wait, at any hour, for your footfall... and eagerly jump to their feet out of a sound sleep, to greet you as if you are a God.

With warm eyes full of adoring love and hope that you will stay and pet their big, strong necks...

and kiss their dear sweet heads... and whisper to their very special company...

I look in the Mirror... and see I am getting old....

this is the kind of woman I am... and have always been.

Loving dogs is easy, they are part of me, accept me for who I am,

my dogs appreciate my presence in their lives...

when I am old this will be important to me...

you will understand when you are old....

and if you have dogs to love too.

--Thanks for the submission Darlene

Good Deeds

Love-a-Bull MN Bulldog Rescue has two Bullies that will be in need of new homes. Rocko is a 4 ½ year old fawn and white neutered male who needs more attention than his former home could provide. They live in a townhome without a fenced yard and have a one year old baby, so getting Rocko enough exercise and personal attention was becoming more difficult. Rocko needs a home where they are willing to work with him to curb some of his rambunctious habits and give him some consistent discipline to help him learn his place in the "pack".

Brutis is also four and half years old. He is fawn brindle and white. Brutis is an intact male and has been having some dominance issues with other dogs in his household. He does not like other males dogs and neutering him should help to lessen this undesirable behavior, but some of this is likely to be ingrained habit, so he will still need to go to a home with no other male dogs and preferably no other dogs, even though he will be neutered before placement. In all other respects, he is a great dog. He loves people and is even fine with cats.

Both dogs will need to be brought up to date on their vaccinations and any medical needs taken care of. Once these dogs have been evaluated and their health and temperament is verified as good, they will be going to their new homes. We will keep you posted as to their progress.

Love-a-Bull Rescue will be having a silent auction fundraiser at the next Wrinkle Time, November 2nd. If you have anything you would like to donate to the auction, please contact Marcia Tiegs. Marcia can be reached at 952-445-6836 before 7:00 pm or email her at: sh0rtlilme@msn.com. Please be sure to check out the auction and bid generously if you are able. Thank you.

Loud, short, strangely dressed people pound on the door for hours, constantly coming and going no matter how loudly you bark. Some of these creatures throw eggs and smash vegetables. To you it's Halloween but your dog might not see it the same way. Ringing doorbells and strangers coming and going but never taking the time to meet the canine resident might stress your dog.

- If you are at all unsure your dog will enjoy Halloween, just keep her in another area of the house, maybe in her kennel. It might be helpful to give him a special bone or treat so he has something to keep him busy.
- Careful your dog doesn't get into your kid's goodies and treats!
- If you do dress your dog be careful nothing is too restrictive (especially to breathing) and your dog doesn't get too hot.

Here is what the ASPCA says about safety for Halloween:

Halloween can be a festive and fun time of year for children and families, but for family pets, it can be a stressful and even dangerous time of year. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) offers pet owners some common-sense tips to help them keep their safe.

- Don't leave your pet out in the yard on Halloween. There are plenty of stories of vicious pranksters who have teased, injured, stolen, even killed pets on this night.
- Keep your outdoor cats inside several days before and several days after Halloween. Black cats in particular may be at risk from children's pranks or other cruelty-related incidents.
- Many shelters do not adopt out black cats on Halloween as a safety precaution.
- Trick-or-treat candies are not for pets. Chocolate is poisonous to many animals, and tin foil and cellophane candy wrappers can be hazardous if swallowed.
- Be careful of pets around a lit pumpkin. Pets may knock it over and cause a fire. Curious kittens especially run the risk of getting burned.
- Don't dress the dog or cat in costume unless you know he or she loves it. Otherwise, it puts too much stress on the animal.
- If you do dress up your pet, make sure the costume isn't annoying or unsafe. It should not constrict the animal's movement, hearing or ability to breathe or bark. Also, there should not be small, dangling, or easily chewed-off pieces on the costume that your pet could choke on.
- Be careful not to obstruct your pet's vision. Even the sweetest animal can get snappy when he or she can't see.
- All but the most social dogs and cats should be kept in a separate room during trick-or-treat visiting hours. Too many strangers can be scary for a dog or cat.
- When opening the door for trick-or-treaters, be very careful your cat or dog doesn't dart outside.
- Make sure your dog or cat is wearing proper identification. If for any reason they escape and become lost, you increase the chances that they will be returned to you.
