FROM TO NOSE TO TAIL

This section is intended for questions and answers (as well as opinions) about what has worked best in your house for things from nose wrinkles to tear stains to tail pockets. Keep in mind this is not veterinary advice and what works for one bulldog may not work for the next.

This month's question: What do you do to protect your bully from Minnesota winters?

Winter, ahhh. What to do? Lacey spends very little time outside. She only goes outside for her bathroom duty because she is a good little bully. But she is out and back in again quite quick. I brush her more often to keep the oils in her skin stimulated and I put balm on her paw pads. I'm noticing they are getting quite dry. I also work hard on tear stains as the weather tends to cause her eyes to water excessively.

We make sure we give plenty of essential fatty acids (Omega's). We also try not to bathe excessively - not only because we don't want the bulldogs to become pupsicles, but also to avoid drying out their skin. For both the dogs and us we run a humidifier as well.

Next month's question: What did your bully get for Christmas?

Addie is still in "rehab" from her knee surgery and we will be looking for a home for her in 2011.

Last month I told you about a fundraiser that local artist Jesse Marianiello generously organized to benefit BCARN - Minnesota and Rescue Bulldogs. The fundraiser was held in conjunction with an exhibition reception of Jesse's wonderful artwork. Her talent is impressive and her paintings really captured the charm of the various bull-breeds.

The event was held at the Bulldog Restaurant in Minneapolis and a hundred and twenty dollars' worth of tickets were sold that night to benefit BCARN - Minnesota. It was very heartwarming to know that there were people out there willing to donate towards our rescue efforts in order to benefit Bulldogs that need a new start in life.

There is still time to purchase raffle tickets if you'd like a chance to participate in this fundraiser. Tickets will be sold until Christmas at all three Bone Adventure stores in the Twin Cities area. Please follow this link for more information about this fundraiser: <http://straydogarts.blogspot.com/2010/12/hurry-and-enter-to-win-fundraiser-and.html>

The exhibition was very well attended and the paintings were impressive. However, my eye was drawn to a wonderfully expressive painting of a lovely Bulldog puppy. Imagine my surprise when I found out it was none other than "Flash Gordon", a Wrinkle Time attendee. Please check out more photos of the event in Jesse's Facebook photo album.

The Bulldog Club of America Rescue Network (BCARN)

The BCA Rescue Network, Inc. is a non-profit organization with IRS 501(c)(3) status. We have many volunteers nationwide who love the Bulldog breed and are dedicated to its continued well-being. The volunteers find new homes for more than 1000 Bulldogs per year. Many thousands of dollars are spent to provide medical care, food, shelter, and training while the rescued Bulldogs are awaiting adoption.

BCARN in Minnesota is a local group of Bulldog Club of America Rescue Network volunteers. For more information about Bulldog Rescue go to:

(sung to the 12 days of Christmas) And a bulldog in a cat tree...

Gee, I thought being a cat would be a LOT more fun than this.

You think this is a cat tree??!! No way is this for pesky cats. I will be happy to demonstrate that this device is actually a Bulldog Loafing Ledge.

Oh nothing, just hanging out.

Whaddya lookin' at?

Great fit, was this made for me or what?

No dogs here. Nope, no dogs needing a bath here. Only cats.

I can fit in the tree, see? So I can fit in your bed too.

Cat, what cat, there was never I cat, I don't know what you are talking about.

Life just doesn't get any better then this.

The Dr said I should be in traction an hour a day for my back.

Ok, you have had your fun, now may I please get down from here.

The cat thinks she is so special, guess I showed her.

Nope, size Medium doesn't work. Gotta go for the Large.

What? Cat tree??? I thought it was the new Bowflex!

What kind of masseuse table is this?

Seriously? I do not know why the cat likes this thing

I'm up here, now what am I supposed to do?

The cat made this look a whole lot easier. HELP!

Beats having to pay a gym membership.
